

MENTOR

LAUREN BILLINGS

Lauren Billings is the VP of Operations and owner of Billings Productions, Inc., a Texas-based creator of giant moving creatures that inspire awe, teach as they go, and are easy for partners to host. She has worked in the family business since age 18, carrying forward its spirit of “engineering wonder that teaches.” Her projects have traveled across the globe—dinosaurs and beyond—and she partners with organizations like Make-A-Wish to turn big ideas into living art.

Interesting facts: Lauren once debuted an animatronic mantis shrimp at a major industry conference, is developing a technical training program to teach animatronics production, and designs experiences that blend art, engineering, and accessibility. She sources nearly all materials in the U.S., building sustainably and supporting domestic suppliers. As a mentor, Lauren brings a mix of creative vision, operational know-how, and a belief that hands-on wonder can empower the next generation to build the impossible.
