MARK BLUM

For more than four and a half decades, Mark has lived at the intersection of adventure and compassion, carrying the hope of the Gospel to some of the most remote corners of the earth. His passport tells the story—67 countries, countless lives touched, and a journey that's far from over.

Married for 41 years to his beautiful wife, Debbie, the two have built not only a family—two amazing daughters and four treasured grandchildren—but also a mission that beats with purpose. Together, they lead World Missions Adventure, a nonprofit dedicated to bringing joy, comfort, and healing to the poor and hurting worldwide.

Their work spans from medical clinics in underserved African villages, to kids camps in Jungles that ignite hope, to leadership training that equips local heroes, and building vibrant playgrounds in orphanages where laughter becomes a universal language.

“Our heartbeat is simple,” Mark says. “We want to make a positive, lasting difference in the lives of others, all around the world.”

For Mark and Debbie, it's not just missions—it's a lifetime adventure of faith, love, and leaving the world better than they found it.
